

Annual David K. Johnson Foundation Golf Tournament continues to raise much needed funds for Alzheimer's research and community initiatives

Reading – Skies were blue and the field was filled with more than 130 golfers for the 17th Annual David K. Johnson (DKJ) Foundation golf tournament at Four Oaks Country Club in Dracut, Massachusetts on August 14th. Hosted by DKJ Foundation founders Bruce and Gregg Johnson, the tournament raised funds to support their three main initiatives – a cure, community, and continued education – around Alzheimer's care and research. The scramble kicked off at 10:30 with an enthusiastic group of supporters, sponsors and volunteers in attendance. Highlights of the day included our famous slush hole sponsored by Tito's Handmade Vodka, an Air Cannon hole, on-the-course lunch, and pursuit of the coveted Cormier Cup. After some lively, but friendly competition, the golfers gathered in the Club House for a silent auction, raffles, dinner and presentation of day's awards. During remarks Bruce Johnson said "We appreciate everyone taking a day off to come play some golf. The success of this Foundation is only possible because of all of your support."

The annual golf tournament is one of two major events hosted by The DKJ Foundation. Each spring the DKJ Foundation partners with Aine's for the Annual Fashion Show.

About The David K. Johnson Foundation

The DKJ Foundation was started in 2001 soon after Bruce and Gregg Johnson's father, David, was diagnosed with Alzheimer's at the age of 60. The Foundation strives to carry on their parents' legacy of helping others, sharing love and support and having fun. The DKJ Foundation donates funds raised to The Cure Alzheimer's Fund, supports community activities such as (insert which one here?), and provides financial assistance to a Reading Memorial High School student through the David and Susan Johnson Memorial Scholarship Fund.
